RAILROAD COLLISION

Bad Wreck on the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio

ON A TRESTLE NEAR KENT, O.

Three People Instantly Killed, Three Fatally Hurt and Eighteen Others Seriously Injured—The Wrecked Cars Take Fire and Some of the Victims are Badly Roasted.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 1.—A head-end collision occurred near Kent, O., yesterday morning about 8 o'clock between an excursion train and a freight, by which three persons were killed and twenty two others more or less injured, some of them fatally.

The passenger train was the Michigan section of the Olin family excursion, members of which were going to the national reunion of their kindred at Bennington, Vt. Many other Michigan people took advantage of the low rate to visit friends in the east. It was a foggy night and the collision occurred on a long fill thirty feet high, in the middle of which was a bridge sixty feet long over the Pittsburgh and Western tracks. Part of the passenger train was on the bridge when the crash came.

William Maxwell, of Meadville, traveling engineer of the second division, who was running on the passenger engine, had started back over the tender just before the collision. He was caught between the tender and baggage car and was ground into a jelly, one leg being torn off and thrown down the bank.

Engineer C. E. Brown, of Meadville, who was on the freight, and Passenger Engineer F. H. Nichols, of Meadville, jumped and saved their lives. Fireman Stephens, of the passenger train, followed suit and was badly hurt in tumbling down the embankment.

Fireman Clayton Glass, of Meadville, was caught in the wreck and crushed to death.

The passenger train consisted of five sleepers, five day coaches and a baggage car. The baggage car and first day coach were jammed into bits, and the occupants buried in the debris. The second day coach was badly wrecked, seats and timbers being heaped up almost to the ceiling in the center of the coach. The rear portion was kept almost intact, but jammed into the forward portion of the third day coach, which was lifted off the track and pushed skyward at an angle of forty-five degrees.

The second day coach was occupied mostly by women and children. Mrs. Willoughby Dewey, of Richland, Mich., aged forty-five, who sat in the forward part of the coach, met instant death, the heavy timbers crushing her head. Other passengers were buried in the promiscuous pile of seats and timbers.

The stove was overturned and timbers took fire, flames bursting out in an instant. Shrieks of women and children, who were wedged in close to the burning timber, summoned workers to that part of the wreck and a score of men were soon cutting a way through the debris.

Mrs. Alice M. Sedgwick, with both legs broken, lay close to the red hot stove, pushing against it with all her might to keep it from crushing and burning her little daughter, who lay just by her. The mother's clothing was burned off, and one side of her body was roasted in this desperate work.

Close to her lay Laura Van Auker, a frail girl of eleven, who was doing a like service for her mother, who lay almost under the stove, her arms pinioned and broken. Breaking in from the rear of the coach, the men brought water from the drinking tanks and passed it to the imprisoned women.

In five minutes the woodwork was drenched, and the greedy fire was cheated out of its prey. For a half hour more the men worked like Titans, lifting out women and children, many of them with arms and legs dangling helplessly. As fast as taken out the injured were transferred to sleeping cars, and taken back to Kent.

The Revere Hotel and several nearby houses were at once thrown open, and Doctors Sherman, Evans and Davis, of Kent, and Railroad Surgeon Lashells, of Meadville, began setting broken bones and binding up the wounded.

The injured are: Mrs. A. M. Johnson, of Muskegon, both legs broken, and very low from the shock.

Mrs. G. C. Thompson, of Montague, Mich., severe injury to back, and still unconscious from internal injuries.

Mrs. Caroline Reed, of Richland, Mich., leg broken.

Mrs. Thomas Rechor, of Muskegon, Mich., spine and hips injured.

Charles E. McKinstry badly bruised

by falling through the trestle top to the track, thirty feet below; no bones broken.

Miss Edith Somers, of Grand Rapids, Mich., both bones in the left leg fractured.

Miss Hulda Westcott, of Bangor, Mich., bruised back.

Miss Rebecca Clark, of Bangor, Mich., hip and back injured.

Physicians say that Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Sedgwick and Mrs. Thompson, the first three cannot possibly recover.

The remains of the three dead were taken to Kent and Mrs. Dewey was sent to her home on train No. 5, which went through Kent at 11:30, over two hours late.

Superintendent J. S. Maston, of the second division, who went from Meadville to investigate the accident, says that the blame rests with the crew of the freight train.

They had instructions to wait at Ravenna until the sixth section of the excursion train passed. Conductor Biebert, of the freight, claims that there were no lights on the fifth section to indicate that another section was to follow.

The collision happened about 2:10 a. m., standard time. In a few minutes more the freight would have made the Kent siding and the accident would have been avoided.

Coroner Sherman will hold an inquest Thursday morning.

Bad Freight Wreck.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Freight train No. 599 was standing on the track at Audubon park at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Another freight train coming down the road at a speed of about thirty-five miles an hour crashed into the stationary train, telescoping half a dozen cattle-laden cars, knocking them into kindling wood, piling many of them into the river, mangle and slaying the animals and wrecking the engine. Fireman John Leonard was killed instantly. Patrick Morrissey, who was in charge of a car of horses, was bruised. Altogether nine cars were wrecked. Many of the horses in Morrissey's car were killed.

"HOLD YOUR WHEAT."

Ignatius Donnelly Issues a Circular to the Minnesota Farmers.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 1.—Another "Hold Your Wheat" circular is out. This one is from Ignatius Donnelly, president of the Minnesota Alliance, who urges farmers to hold their wheat for thirty days longer. In it he says: "I think every intelligent man in Minnesota knows that wheat is now selling far below its actual value. It is very clear that if not a bushel of wheat is sold in Minnesota by the farmers during the next thirty days the wheat pits of Chicago, New York and London would be full of 'dead bears,' and the farmers would get for their wheat crop what it is really worth."

"I do not speak in behalf of the state Farmers' Alliance, but in my individual capacity, and I believe that the farmers are being robbed of one-fourth the value of their product, and that they should totally stop all sales of wheat for a time and then let it out slowly, so as not to break down the market."

RIOTOUS NEGRO COTTON PICKERS.

Several Shot Down and Others Badly Wounded.

MEMPHIS, Oct. 1.—Since the killing of Overseer Miller on Frank's plantation, Saturday, a posse of citizens have been after the rioting negro cotton pickers in Lee county, Ark. A number found refuge in a large canebrake, which was surrounded, and the lines patrolled by white citizens.

Yesterday a party of eight negroes attempted to escape. Three of them were shot. One named Payton was killed instantly. Robert Patterson, leader of the band, was fatally shot, and six others wounded. The excited captors wanted to lynch them, but they were marched to Lee county jail at Marianna. This morning bloodhounds were put on the track of the fugitives in the canebrake. Escape is almost impossible, and if the negroes resist they will be killed.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Woman Clears Up a Mystery at Shoals, Indiana.

SHOALS, Oct. 1.—The grand jury returned indictments against Joseph Crabtree and William Walters for the murder of Stanford Freeman, a wealthy farmer residing in the southern part of this county, on Thursday, Oct. 8, 1885. Crabtree has been arrested and is in the county jail.

Walters is serving a sentence of twenty-one years in the prison south, for the murder of two men in Orange county, over a game of cards. The murder of Freeman has always supposed to have been committed by the Archer gang until Mel Andrews, a former mistress of Walters, gave information which has led to a strong chain of evidence, which will undoubtedly convict the accused.

Murdered and Their Bodies Burned.

RALEIGH, Oct. 1.—A special to The State Chronicle from Roxboro says News of a horrible death by fire reached here today. William Dixon and his wife lived ten miles from Roxboro. Last night about 8 o'clock screams were heard by a neighbor, but as Dixon and his wife were known to live unhappily together it was thought they were having a fight. Shortly afterward the house was in flames, and the charred bodies of the couple were found in the ashes. Dixon's hat with a hole in it, a bloody rock and a pool of blood in the yard lead people to believe that there was murder before the fire.

Base Ball Protest.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—President Hart, of the Chicago base ball club, has protested to President Young, of the National League, against counting the double games played at Boston Sept. 19, 23, 24 and 30. The pennant depends upon these games, for should they be thrown out the Chicago club can possibly secure the coveted prize.

BOULANGER IS DEAD

His Life Taken By His Own Hand.

HE SUICIDES IN A CEMETERY.

On the Grave of His Former Mistress the Great French General Blows His Brains Out with a Revolver—Excitement in Paris Over the Event.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 1.—General Boulanger committed suicide yesterday on the tomb of Madame de Bonnemain, his former mistress, who died recently in this city.

General Boulanger was seen by some workmen in the cemetery to enter the cemetery gates about 11:30 o'clock in the morning. The general looked sad and pale, but otherwise there was nothing especially noteworthy in his appearance.

General Boulanger, at once proceeded to the grave of Madame de Bonnemain, which is situated at a little distance from the spot where the men were working, and which was hidden from their view. The men continued their work, and about three-quarters of an hour after the general had passed the place where they were employed they were startled by the loud report of a revolver and rushing to the grave of Madame de Bonnemain found General Boulanger lying beside it. He was quite dead. His hand was tightly grasping a revolver. The ball had entered his temple and had passed through his head.

The body of the dead man was taken to his late residence in this city after permission from the proper authorities had been obtained.

Boulanger's Career.

George Ernst Jean Marie Boulanger, French ex-minister of war, was born at Rennes in 1837. His descent on the maternal side is Welsh. In 1855 Boulanger entered the military college of St. Cyr, and was made sub-lieutenant in 1857. He served under Marshal Randon in the Kabyle campaign. He also took part in the Franco-Italian war, and was wounded in the battle of Turbigo.

In 1860 he obtained his full lieutenancy, and two years later was promoted to a captaincy, having in the interim seen service in Cochinchina. Just before the war of 1870 he became major. He was with Bazaine at Metz, but by some means escaped the fate of Bazaine's army, and made his way back to Paris. He was then promoted to a lieutenant colonelcy by the government of national defense, and fought at Champigny Nov. 30 to Dec. 2. After the suppression of the commune, Boulanger's newly attained promotion was quashed by the grade revision committee and restored to him in 1874.

In 1880 he became brigadier general. Being appointed to the command of the army of occupation of Tunis, General Boulanger had a disagreement with M. Camilleon, the resident general, and was recalled. He then held the war office appointment of director of the infantry division, and became minister of war in 1886. When M. de Freycinet resigned, and was succeeded by M. Goblet (December, 1886), the general retained his portfolio; but on the fall of M. Goblet, Boulanger's name did not appear in the cabinet of M. Bouvier. Soon after this the general was dispatched to Clermont-Ferrand to take command of an army corps, receiving a great ovation at Paris on his departure. When the Limousin scandal broke upon Paris like a thunder-clap, General Boulanger commented very freely upon the war minister's conduct, and was immediately ordered under close arrest for thirty days at his own headquarters.

The government having decided in March, 1888, to cashier the general by placing him on the retired list, he inaugurated a vigorous campaign against the ministry. Vacancies shortly after occurred in the representation for the Boudogne and the Nord. Here he was returned by 59,500 votes to 35,750 polled by the Opportunist candidate. In the Nord his triumph was still more remarkable, the number of votes polled for him being 172,528 against 75,901 for M. Foucart, and 9,647 for M. Moreau. This was on April 15, 1888, which in a manifesto he issued to the electors, he declared would be marked in the annals of the country as a date of true deliverance. Subsequently his popularity waned for a time.

The general's appearance in the chamber of deputies in July, 1888, to demand a dissolution of the chamber, gave rise to a stormy scene. M. Floquet made a vigorous attack upon the general, and in the altercation between them General Boulanger exclaimed, "You lie!" This led M. Floquet to demand satisfaction, and on July 13 a duel was fought between them, with the result that the general received a deep wound in the throat. After his recovery he appeared (1889) as a candidate at bye-elections in Paris, at the Nord, the Somme and Charente Inferieure, and was returned by large majorities. The Patriotic league, of which he was the head, was subsequently suppressed, and the general was tried by the senate on a charge of having, while war minister, appropriated $10,000 of public money for purposes of his own propaganda. He was found guilty.

To avoid arrest, he fled first to Belgium, then to London, where he arrived April 24. The general was elected at the general election (September), for Montmartre, by a small majority over M. Joffrin, but the election was annulled. The general then retired to the Island of Jersey, and later removed to Brussels, where he rented the palatial residence formerly occupied by the Austrian ambassador.

Madame de Bonnemain, the general's mistress, upon whose tomb he breathed his last, died in this city on July 16, 1891, after having accompanied General Boulanger in all his later wanderings. She devoted an inherited fortune of $1,500,000 to the furtherance of the general's political fortunes.

Caused a Sensation in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The news of Boulanger's death has caused a tremendous sensation in Paris. The newspapers containing details of the suicide are unable to meet the demand for copies. Members of the Patriotic league are already talking of demanding a public funeral in Paris for the late general. It is likely that they will try to make an issue with the government on this point.

MARCHING ON GUATEMALA.

A Thousand Poorly Armed Rebels Spilling for a Fight.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 1.—The following dated Sept. 29, was published here Wednesday morning from the City of Mexico:

A dispatch received in this city from Nenton, late yesterday afternoon, says that 1,000 men indifferently armed are marching from Guetizaltenango on the City of Guatemala, which is still under martial law and invested with government troops, who will march out to give battle to the insurgent army.

The work of executing the men who took part in the recent revolt still continues. The only news of the troubles in Guatemala is either received by special carrier to Nenton or by fleeing Guatemalans, who are seeking the hospitality of the southern frontier of Mexico.

Owing to the double assassination in which Gen. Cayetano Sanchez was killed by Colonel Angel Jobon and the latter by Romula Sanchez, one of the youngest of four brothers, the entire male portion of the family, with the exception of Manuel, who was out of town, were sent to prison.

Manuel made his escape to San Salvador, the capital of Salvador. There he got into a dispute with some other residents regarding the late war between Guatemala and Salvador, and he shot and killed three people.

It is rumored in Guatemala that Toledo, President Barillas' private secretary, who left that city a few days ago on a government mission to the departments of the West, has been assassinated while en route, as nothing has been heard of him.

Restless in Brazil.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—Le Matin says that there has been a revolutionary agitation in several provinces of Brazil, causing the government great uneasiness. In many places, according to Le Matin, the troops have mutinied and the government must adopt strong measures if it hopes to maintain order.

Critical State of the Miners.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—The conference between the river coal operators and representatives of the miners yesterday afternoon failed in agreeing to the demands of the miners for ninety-two cents per ton for digging, and a strike in all river mines in the Pittsburgh district was ordered to go into effect this morning. Later in the day, however, three of the operators notified the miners that they would grant the demand. It is believed that the strike will be of short duration. About 8,000 men are involved.

Bequest to a Good Cause.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—In the south of France an eccentric woman named Cabouret, has left $1,600,000 to any Frenchman who penetrates farther than anyone has gone into the wilds of Africa with 500 or more compatriots, on the condition that one-half of the caravan returns safely. Madame Cabouret was an enthusiastic admirer of Cardinal Lavigerie, and was anxious to suppress the slave trade. The will is disputed by her relatives.

A Sister's Devotion.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Oct. 1.—Miss Jessie Philbeck, of this city, is about to be committed to the Logansport asylum. She was formerly a bright young lady, but constant association with a demented sister has resulted in disturbing her own mental condition. Her case furnishes a striking example of a sister's devotion. She was warned that her absorbing devotion would result in her own mental impairment, but without avail.

Now Expecting a Note.

NORWALK, O., Oct. 1.—Michael Gies, a German farmer residing near here, was induced to sign a paper by three strangers, who represented themselves to be organ agents. They left an organ and receipt for $300 payment on the organ, but he didn't pay a penny. He is now expecting a note to turn up against him.

Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—A fire in the fifth and sixth floors of the John Van Range company, located at 6, 8 and 10 Home street, did damage to the amount of $30,000 last night. The origin of the fire and the insurance are not known.

Buried in a Tunnel.

ROME, Oct. 1.—A terrible accident is reported from Ovada, near Genoa, Italy. An unfinished tunnel collapsed and twenty-one workmen were buried. Seventeen were extricated alive, and it is feared the others are dead.

Not Liable to Get Him.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 1.—Governor Campbell, of Ohio, has made a personal plea to Governor Ladd for the delivery of Elwood, the burglar, to the Ohio authorities. It is not likely that the request will be granted.

Crushed by a Cider Mill.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 1.—Louis Green, aged eighteen, son of Rev. George Green, of Memphis, was fatally crushed by a cider mill which he was transporting yesterday.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1891.

Railway News.

The earning of the Louisville Southern for the months of July and August were $48,000 net, sufficient to pay all fixed charges and 2 per cent. on the stock.

Last week the Chesapeake and Ohio placed in service on the mountain division two large ten-wheel passenger engines. They weigh 145,000 pounds, and it is expected they will haul ten cars up any grade on the road and make schedule time.

At the present rate the Chesapeake & Ohio will this year earn $9,000,000. It has already earned over $6,500,000, and has the three best months in the year to earn the other $2,500,000. Its friends predict that in 1892 its earnings will reach a million a month.

Professor Thurston says: "The assumption seems fair that the locomotive engine will have been superseded when we double our speed, and that we must find ways to utilize the weights of the cars themselves for adhesion and to make each to carry its own motor."

The full returns for the last fiscal year of the Chesapeake and Ohio are not yet at hand, but the gross earnings were $8,027,111, an increase over last year of $961,162, or nearly fourteen per cent. The net earnings were $2,206,693 an increase of $499,871, or a little more than twenty-five per cent. It is estimated that the interest, rentals, taxes and all charges will call for about $2,000,000. On this basis the surplus would be about $200,000. The first preferred is entitled to five per cent. non-cumulative dividends which calls for $650,000. On the basis of the current gross earnings it would only require a reduction in the ratio of expenses from seventy-three per cent. to sixty-seven per cent. Of course any increase in the gross would add proportionately.—Exchange.

Mr. Bruce's New Book.

"Resources of The Country Between the Ohio River and Blue Ridge Mountains," is the title of a work on which Mr. Thos. Bruce, of Virginia, is now engaged. This work will include a historical sketch of the country, with a description of the climate and scenery, as well as accounts of the agricultural and mineral resources of the section, with historical sketches of the cities and towns along the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway.

Mr. Bruce will be in Maysville, as a central point, for some weeks collecting material and data, and any information regarding the earlier history of Kentucky, with the present resources, &c., will be gladly received by him.

Mr. Bruce, who has charge of this work, is endorsed and assisted by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company. He is a native of Virginia, and author of "Loveless Marriages," "Cupid and Duty," "That Bruisin' Lad O'Greystone Lodge," works of fiction, and "Southwest Virginia and Shenandoah Valley," historical.

ELECTRICITY.

All Physical Phenomena Directly Traceable to this Energy.

Twenty-three hundred years ago Aristotle declared there is but one single universal force, and that declaration entitles him to be called the father of science. But the dark ages came and crushed that truth to earth to rise again in the last years of the 19th century. When the clouds of the dark ages began to clear away a great mind declared a half truth in the nebular theory of creation, which for more than a century has been taken as a basis of astronomy, geology and meteorology. This nebular theory like the Ptolemaic theory of astronomy, is requiring of our astronomers, geologists and meteorologists constant inventions to make the nebular hypothesis and the consequent heat theory of force to hold together, and these invented theories are becoming so numerous that the nebular theory is tottering to its fall. For the salvation of science it is just as necessary to return to the unity of force, as announced by Aristotle, as it was to christianity that Paul should establish the unity of spiritual force in the truth of one God. The nebular theory stands to scientific truth in about the same relation that the theory of a million gods did to true religion in the days of Christ. If we go back to the truth of one universal force, we do not only lift science from the mire, but we do for the scientific world that which the doctrine of one God did for the religious world.

Prof. Wm. H. Preece, London's leading electrician, declares that "all physical phenomena, without a single exception, may be traced to the mere transformation of electrical energy." That is a reassertion of the great Aristotelean truth, and is in harmony with my views as to the physical forces. There is but one physical force, and that force is electricity, or matter in motion. Its origin is found in the condensation of the diffused matter of space.

As this ether of space condenses into the solid bodies as the meteors, comets, moons, planets, suns and the clusters of stars, it is, by these condensations, caused to converge toward these common centers in straight lines, and after moving through them and depositing its grosser materials, radiates to other bodies gathering more matter in space. This movement of that which has been called the ether of space constitutes all there is of electricity and of force, and is the basis of my meteorological theories. Electricity is the universal force, is the cause of light, heat, magnetism, attraction, repulsion, gravitation, earthquakes, the high and low barometers, heat in the earth, volcanoes and is the life principle of the vegetable and animal kingdoms. It moves the atmosphere lifts the moisture and is the force of the tornado. Every heavenly body, from the meteors to the suns, have grown from atoms by condensations. Suns and planets are caused to revolve on their axes by the electrical force we see in the natural magnet and planets and satellites revolve around their primaries because of the elements that surround and revolve with the latter. The sun is not and the earth never was a hot body; neither light nor heat comes from the sun, but are effects of electrical radiations; the planets, satellites and asteroids entered our solar system as comets and each will continue to grow by accumulations from the ether of space—electricity—till it becomes a sun and the center of a solar system. The earth's diameter at its equator is greater than at its poles because of vegetable and coral growths. Coal is not of vegetable origin. The moon is not a dead world.

All storms are whirlwinds and north of latitude 30 they move entirely around the earth—never die and they increase and decrease in force by reason of the position of the sun, moon and planets. The high and low barometers constitute electric pairs and the currents of electricity that rise in the low comes down in the high forming electric circuits. Cold waves, early fall and late spring frosts are caused by tropical hurricanes. Early springs, late falls, cold and warm winters, drouth, rain belts, excessive heat, extreme cold, great storm period and the location of storms are governed by the position of the planets.

High Prices for Tobacco.

N. & D. Watson, of Shannon, paid $35 per hundred for a hoghead of tobacco at the Globe House, Cincinnati, a few days since. At same house, C. C. Arthur, also of Shannon, obtained $35 per hundred for one hoghead. Perry Jefferson, of Nicholas, sold one hoghead at $30 per hundred, and three other hogheads at $20.75, $22.50, and $27.

Its Excellent Qualities.

Commend to public approval the California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. It is pleasing to the eye, and to the taste and by gently acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, it cleanses the system effectually, thereby promoting the health and comfort of all who use it.

THE COUNTY SCHOOL TAX.

The Law Governing Its Collection and Disbursement.

Editor Bulletin: By request of a number of trustees of the public schools, we ask room to publish below all of those sections of the county school law which pertain to the collection and disbursement of the fund. The sections that are omitted contain the provision for the vote which has already been taken and the levy of the tax. Our county fund places in the hands of the local Board of Trustees abundant means of making our common school adequate to the thorough education of the masses.

We hope every trustee of the county, as well as the teachers, will preserve this text of the law for future reference. There is no longer any reason for failure in Mason County. The people have done their duty, let the teachers and trustees see to it that they do theirs as nobly. Following are sections we wish to call attention to:

"Section 7. The officers collecting the taxes herein provided for shall pay the same to the common school Superintendent of the county on or before the first day of October of the year in which said taxes are collected, which taxes shall be by him disbursed, ratably, according to the pupils of the several districts, as in the case of the State school fund, for the purpose of increasing the salary of the teachers, or for lengthening the school term, as the trustees of several districts may contract with the teachers; and it shall be the duty of the trustees of each district to file with the County Superintendent a certified copy of their contract with the teacher before the opening of the school, and such teacher shall be paid his salary upon the report of the district at the close of each month. If any school district should not be entitled to draw the money apportioned to it during the school year, by failure to keep a public school, then the money apportioned to said district shall go to the county fund for the next school year and be distributed, ratably, to all the districts in the county: Provided, however, that districts composed in part of adjoining counties shall receive a pro rata according to the number of their pupils in Mason County, which shall be reported by the trustees separate, and the money due such a fractional district reporting in an adjoining county shall be paid to the County Superintendent of said county, upon his filing with County Superintendent of Mason County a certified copy of the census report of the trustees of the pupil children of said district in Mason County, subject, however, to all of the conditions of this act in its disbursements.

Section 8. The County Superintendent shall, on the order of the trustees of any district, pay for the fuel and other necessary expenses incident to the comfortable conduct of the school in such district from the taxes herein provided for; but the money so disbursed shall not exceed 10 per cent. of the sum apportioned to any district; nor shall any part of such taxes be expended for building or repairing school houses.

"Section 9. If at the time the tax herein provided for is imposed, any district shall have heretofore voted a tax upon itself in aid of its common school, such district tax shall not be levied nor collected unless it shall be re-submitted to the voters of said district and by them re-affirmed.

"Section 10. This act shall take effect from its passage.

"Approved April 29, 1890."

GERMANTOWN FAIR.

Everything in Readiness for a Big Fair This Week.

It has been industriously circulated in many localities by some idle or evil-minded person that, on account of the prevalence of "black tongue" in this community, the Germantown fair would not be held this season. There is no "black tongue" in this locality, or any other alarming or contagious disease among men or horses, and the report is altogether false.

The "old reliable" is recognized everywhere as the best fair in the State, and is just now on the top wave of prosperity. We anticipate the largest fair held for years.

J. A. WALTON, Sec'y.

We, the undersigned, physicians residing in Germantown, Ky., do hereby certify to the correctness of the above statement.

The total expenses of the late Constitutional convention, including that for the printing yet to be done, the pay of the left-over editors and committees and many incidentals never yet reported, will amount to little short of $300,000.

GERMANTOWN FAIR.

The "Farmers' Autumnal Jubilee" Begun Under Favorable Auspices.

Lovely Fall Weather the First Day. A List of the Premiums Awarded.

The Germantown fair!

What a magazine of pleasant recollections the words bring. "It seems to me but yesterday, nor scarce so long ago" since we wrote the first letter to the Louisville Journal, telling the thousands of readers of that great newspaper about the second annual fair of the Union Agricultural Society of Mason and Bracken counties. Then, as now, the people within a radius of thirty miles, cut off from railways, isolated from the busy world, looked upon Germantown as the hub of the universe—the Delphian Vale—the Palestine—and the fair was their mecca—the farmers' autumnal jubilee—to which they made their annual pilgrimage. Those were good old times—those were bright and joyous days, anticipated with so much eagerness and which always passed so quickly.

But the Germantown fair, like the good wine that was kept for the last of the feast, is still with us—"it is a thing of beauty and joy forever"—and the beaux and belles of to-day will repeat the same "old, old story" that dad and mam did when you and I were boys. Attend the fair and view these pleasant scenes. It will revive your youth. It's better than Brown Sequard's elixir.

The association has a new President, a very courteous gentleman from Bracken, but the same prompt and obliging Secretary, Colonel Joe A. Walton, the old Treasurer W. C. Johnson, and a directory of level-headed, matured men.

Maysville's home band—none better—discourses sweet music. The gates of the amphitheatre are open and the contending exhibitors are on hand in large numbers.

The fair opened Wednesday under most favorable auspices. As a result of the delightful shower, dust and heat have gone where the woodbine twineth. Larger attendance than usual for first day. Following is a list of the successful exhibitors:

THAT TRAGEDY IN LEWIS.

One of the Bloodiest on Record—The Mystery at Last Cleared.

Captain James Heflin has returned from Lewis County, where he was called a few days ago to investigate the Carr-Evans tragedy which occurred at the home of James Evans, near Quincy, September 24.

The affair was shrouded in considerable mystery at first. Carr and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Burrows, were found dead at the home of his father-in-law, James Evans. Their bodies were hacked in a fearful manner. Mrs. Carr and Mrs. Evans were found suffering from many cuts and wounds. The house was filled with evidences of one of the bloodiest encounters on record in the way of a domestic tragedy.

It was given out that Carr had killed his sister-in-law, Mrs. Burrows, hacked and cut his wife and her mother until he thought they too were dead and had then taken his own life. Investigation, however, soon brought to light evidence that the real story had not been told by the survivors.

Captain Heflin's services were secured, and he succeeded in the course of a few days in bringing to light the facts of the fearful encounter. He obtained a confession from Mrs. Evans, who is in jail at Vanceburg. She says that on the day of the tragedy she was in a field gathering beans. Her husband was there cutting corn. Mrs. Carr came out and asked her father to go to the house and divide the goods, as she and Carr had concluded to separate. The couple had been quarreling since the previous evening, and Carr had told her he had three other wives, and had children as old as she was. Evans declined to divide the goods, but spoke of a neighbor whom he could get to make the division. The parties went back to the house, and Evans stuck the corn knife he was carrying in the gate-post and went toward Quincy to bring the neighbor spoken of, and also to get a warrant for Carr. In the house at the time was Rosa Burrows, sister of Mrs. Carr, and the two children of the Burrows woman. Carr and his wife resumed their quarrel, which was about a young man named White, who lived in the neighborhood. On entering Carr accidentally stepped on one of the children, which so enraged Mrs. Burrows that she grabbed up a hand axe and dealt Carr a blow with the pole of it. Carr then seized a corn knife, which was lying in the room, and Mrs. Evans ran in to interfere, and Carr dealt her a blow in the breast, also on the head and shoulder.

Mrs. Evans ran out of the house, and while she was absent Carr struck his wife three blows with the knife and she fled to the cornfield. He then deliberately cut Mrs. Burrows almost to pieces, killing her instantly. While doing this, Mrs. Evans had returned, armed with the knife Evans had left sticking in the post, and coming up behind Carr, she dealt him a blow which felled him to his hands and knees, and while in this position she deliberately cut his throat, severing the left jugular and wind-pipe completely. Mrs. Evans then sounded the alarm, which brought the neighbors, who witnessed the result of the bloody fight that had taken place.

It has been ascertained that Carr's proper name is Henderson, and he claimed to have come from Georgia, Ind. The examining trial of Evans and his wife was held yesterday at Vanceburg. Evans proved an alibi, and was discharged. She repudiated her confession made in the presence of Captain Heflin and several others.

MERRICK LODGE No. 31, I. O. O. F., of Lexington, has elected R. D. Wilson, Ben. D. Bell, Charles Tipton, L. H. Notnagle, Henry Voight, Julius Marks and R. Arnsperger representatives to the annual session of the Grand Lodge to be held in this city.

SAYS the Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat: "Riley Macklin will be arraigned for trial in Nicholas County, as it is claimed the Maysville & Lexington turnpike is located wholly in that county. As Weisbrodt was standing within thirty feet of the center of the turnpike, this takes the case to Nicholas."

An eastbound C. and O. freight train was side-tracking this morning at the foot of Short street when a frog spread and derailed two cars. Nobody hurt. The accident delayed the eastbound Washington express and the westbound Hunting accommodation. The track had not been cleared at noon.

THE Covington Post in speaking of the Methodist conference at Newport says: "The opening exercises were begun by a song by the choir and then by the entire congregation, followed by an earnest and beautiful prayer by Rev. W. E. Williamson, of Illinois, in which he evoked the blessings of heaven on the assembled congregation and ministers."

CHILIAN SITUATION.

Nothing New Given Out by the Washington Authorities.

GREAT SECRECY MAINTAINED

The Cruiser San Francisco Ordered Back to Valparaiso—Minister Egan's Action Justified -- The Chilean Government Makes a Demand on Great Britain for the Return of Balmaceda's Silver.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The only important announcement made yesterday concerning the Chilean complication was that the cruiser San Francisco which arrived Monday at Payta, Peru on her way northward to San Francisco had been ordered back to Valparaiso. This statement was sanctioned by Secretary Tracy. The commander of the San Francisco was also directed to touch at Callao on his return journey, for any instructions that the navy department may send there.

Secretary Tracy refuses to give the reasons for sending the San Francisco to Callao and Acting Secretary Wharton, of the state department, is equally reticent. The greatest secrecy is maintained by all those who are familiar with the situation at Valparaiso and requests that the government issue some official statement for the information of the public have been of no avail. Notwithstanding the order to the San Francisco, it is believed about the state and navy departments that the main feature of the difficulty between this country and Chili has lost its threatening aspect, and that the matter can be disposed of through diplomacy.

A gentleman who is familiar with all the facts in the possession of the state and navy departments said yesterday afternoon that the difficulty was not of such an alarming nature as to justify the heavy veil of secrecy that has been thrown about it by the government.

The state department, it is understood has concluded that the "right of asylum" granted Chilean refugees by Minister Egan is fully justified by precedent.

The United States steamship Yorktown, which some weeks ago was ordered to China, has been ordered to stop on her way thither at Valparaiso for orders. The United States steamship Baltimore is at Valparaiso.

BITTER AGAINST THE BRITISH.

Chilians Make a Demand for the Return of Balmaceda's Silver.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The latest news from Chili is from The Herald's correspondent who sends the following dispatch from Valparaiso:

The Valparaiso papers are filled with bitter comments on the action of the British minister, Kennedy, in connection with the shipment of silver by Balmaceda on the British vessel Espiegle to Montevideo, whence it was taken by the steamer Moselle to England.

They demand that in the name of the much-vaunted English justice, full indemnity to Chili be made as soon as practicable. The bars of silver shipped were worth $135,000. Of this amount $8,550 were conveyed to Payta, Peru, on the Italian steamer Aguilu, which Balmaceda purchased while she was at Montevideo for $140,000. Out of this sum $80,000 were to be expended in furnishing the Aguilu with fixtures and guns, it being Balmaceda's intention to fit her out as a cruiser.

The English bank at Buenos Ayres paid the purchase price to the owner of the vessel, and she was turned over to the officers, designated by Balmaceda. After his downfall they notified the junta that they held Aguilu subject to its orders. The balance of $135,000 reached England on the Moselle and, by order of the courts, was turned over to the bank in London to await the settlement of the right to its possession.

It now transpires that Captain Clark, of the Espiegle, was all through the trouble between Balmaceda and the junta, a violent oppositor, or congressionalist, until the offer to ship the silver on his vessel produced a great change in his opinions, and he flopped over to the side of Balmaceda.

The whaleback steamer Keweenaw, bound from San Diego to Valparaiso, which met with an accident and was towed into Coronel by the German steamer Theben, has arrived here. It seems that she lost four blades by striking a reef in Gray's harbor at Smythe's channel. It will take two weeks to repair the damages.

BOLD TRAIN ROBBER.

One Masked Man Robs an Express Car and Escapes.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 1.—Special American express train No. 31, due here at 3:10 a. m. yesterday, was robbed between here and Little Falls. The robber brought the train to a standstill a mile east of this city by applying the air brake by means of the valve in the car, and then escaped in the darkness.

It seems the robber bored the front door of the car and got the fastenings open and surprised Express Messenger Moore, who was in charge of the car, while at work. He covered him with a revolver and sorted over the packages, taking such as he supposed valuable. It is not known how much was taken, but one package of $5,000 in currency was concealed by Moore and was therefore saved. The robber was masked. Moore continued on the train. He has been in the employ of the company ten or twelve years, and there is no probability that his story is other than true.

Italians in Cincinnati are learning a thing or two, or rather those who vend fruit are. Some of them, who blocked the street with their pushcarts, were arrested, and, so that the vehicles could not well be removed, they removed the wheels while the policemen were signaling for the patrol wagon.

Russia has been experimenting with a movable pigeon loft, from which dispatches are sent by pigeons to various parts of an army camp. Army officers are also training falcons to catch pigeons, so that in case of war the former can capture the enemy's messenger birds.

"LAND BILL" ALLEN A PAUPER.

After Furnishing Homes for Thousands He is Sent to the Poor House.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 1.—"Land Bill Allen," the author of the homestead law, was sent to the county infirmary yesterday.

He is over eighty years old and quite decrepit. He has long been an object of charity, and his hovel at New Albany was seized by the sheriff about a year ago for debt, and since then he has been dependent upon the charity of the neighbors who resided in the vicinity of the place he once called home.

William Allen devoted the best years of his life to securing the passage of the homestead act and other laws favoring land ownership; he spent his fortune in that work and is now without home or friends, an inmate of the county infirmary.

A recent division in the church will be considered and Bishop Dobbs, of Illinois, will be tried on charges affecting his character. The bishop was suspended from his office some time ago and the trial of the charges will now come before the conference.

A CLEW AT LAST

To the Murderers of Thirty-Four Chinese Miners in Idaho in 1887.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Hugh MacMillan, of Walla Walla, has informed the Chinese consul here that in 1887 his son, a boy who has since died, was one of a party of cattle men on the Snake river, Idaho, who attacked several Chinese settlements in that vicinity and murdered thirty-four Chinese miners. The bodies of the Chinese were found floating down the river at the time but no clew could be discovered to the murderers. The object of the attack was to obtain gold dust, and it is estimated that $50,000 was secured. The consul will endeavor to secure indemnity.

Unsuccessful Attempt to Rob a Bank.
OMAHA, Oct. 1.—The Dixon County bank, at Ponca, Neb., was entered by five masked burglars last night, the watchman being overpowered. Their efforts to break into the vault were interrupted by a citizen and the robbers hurried to the railway, where they had a handcar in waiting, and amid a fusillade of bullets they escaped. One of the robbers was shot, but the others carried him away with them on the car.

Valuable Sawmills Burned.
ELLIS JUNCTION, Wis., Oct. 1.—The sawmill and lumber yard of Bird & Wells, at Wausauke, ten miles north of here, on the Milwaukee and Northern railroad, were completely destroyed by fire Monday night. About 5,000,000 feet of sawed lumber was burned. The damage cannot be less than $100,000. Several freight cars belonging to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway were also destroyed.

Bank Burglarized.
GREEN BAY, Wis., Oct. 1.—Burglars effected an entrance to McCartney's Exchange bank, of Fort Howard, last night and secured $3,000 in money and about $4,000 in government bonds. The burglars drilled a hole through the outer vault door, breaking the lock and blowing the time lock to pieces on the inner door with the use of dynamite. Nothing was known of the robbery until late this morning.

Short Over a Quarter of a Million.
LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 1.—Ex-Treasurer Woodruff's total shortage has been ascertained at last. The investigating board reported the result of their work last night, giving an additional shortage of $138,786.99, making Woodruff's total shortage $257,000. Suit will be commenced against his sureties for the amount immediately. Meantime, Woodruff's trial for embezzlement is set for Oct. 19.

Conductor Instantly Killed.
ASPTABULA, O., Oct. 1.—L. M. Stiles, forty-three, an old conductor on the Lake Shore railway, was instantly killed here last night. He stepped from his west-bound train in front of an east-bound pony engine. He was fearfully mangled. His home was in Kingsville, O. He was a prominent Knight Templar.
